SITE PLAN

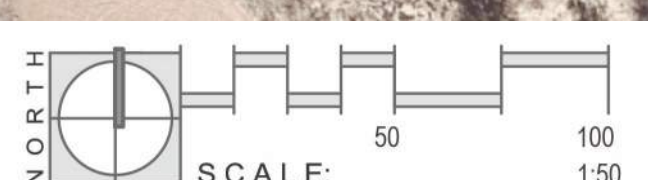

NATURAL RESOURCE PARK DEFINED:

- Park land comprised of native desert open space that supports delicate ecological systems containing wildlife habitat, water resources, and endangered species.
- The role of the Tucson Parks and Recreation Department is to maintain, preserve, and restore when needed, the natural integrity of a resource park.
- As a guideline, no more than 15% of a designated natural resource park should include developed amenities. Rio Vista Natural Resource Park has approximately 12% developed amenity space.
